CHAPTER I
GENERAL INTRODUCTION

Section 1. The Vision and Mission Statement of Partido State University

a. VISION

The leading University in geology, bio-resource science and environmental management in the Bicol Region.

b. MISSION

To provide quality instruction in the arts, philosophy, sciences, technology and other relevant courses and create a competitive advantage in research, extension and production services for the socio-economic upliftment of the Bicolanos.

Section 2. PSU Perspective

Partido State University's positioning statement captures and embodies the culture it will collectively set to achieve its strategic objectives. These will set the environment in which the academic community will work drawing principles in the University's Vision and Mission.

The foregoing are embodied in the PSU Core Values:

P – Passion for Excellence

PSU constantly aspires for outcomes-based performance that would measure to standards and prerequisites of excellence. PSU innovates and strategizes as it carves a niche in its flagship programs in geology, bio-resource sciences and environmental management.

S - Service for Client's Satisfaction

U – Unity for Stability

PSU continues to work in the spirit of cooperation among its campuses, colleges, offices and units in an open and supportive way to achieve shared goals and deliver the best outputs.

Section 3. Brief History of PARTIDO STATE UNIVERSITY

Republic Act No. 9029, signed on March 5, 2001, by President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo officially created Partido State University (ParSU).

ParSU is the by-product of the integration of seven (7) educational institutions located within the fourth Legislative District of the Province of Camarines Sur or popularly known as Partido Area. These are: Partido State College (Goa), San Jose Polytechnic Institute (San Jose), Tinambac Polytechnic College (Tinambac), Caramoan Vocational Technical School (Caramoan), Lagonoy School of Fisheries (Lagonoy), Governor Mariano Fuentebella Memorial College of Fisheries (Sagnay) and San Jose Fisheries School (Salogon).

A major development occurred when polytechnic colleges, vocational schools and post-secondary schools were merged into a state university. ParSU today stands as a multi-campus higher education institution as a result of the said integration.

In 2012, through BOR Resolution No. 49, series of 2012, clustering of colleges and campuses was done to facilitate the delivery of services. Clustered campuses were Lagonoy and San Jose and Salogon and Sagńay.

In 2016, one graduate of a BSED program bagged 4th place in the national level, in 2015 two placed1st and 3rd in the regional level; and in 2001, two placed 4th and 5th in the regional level. Likewise, the first batch graduates of Bachelor of Science in Environment and Sanitary Engineering (BSESE) bagged the 9th place in the national race. From then on topnotchers were consistently produced in the National Licensure Examination for Sanitary engineering. Hence, in 2008 ParSU was recognized by Professional Regulatory commission (PRC) as the top performing Higher Education Institution (HEI) in the Philippines for Sanitary Engineering.

On the other hand, the BS Engineering was extracted from the Engineering, Arts and Sciences (EAS) and was merged to the Technology programs giving birth to the College of Engineering and Technology and the College of Arts and Sciences where Information Technology is a part of.

(for editing: to include other topnotchers in Sanitary Engineering.....years when Avila and Torrillos topped the Engineering Board Exams: names of students may not be included only the years) TWG suggestions during the deliberation

The University, in its desire to provide quality instruction is continuously subjecting its programs to AACCUP Accreditation, and conforming to the SUC levelling criteria. Last April 20, 2015, the University passed the Stage 2 audit conducted by TUV SUD PSB, a certifying body of International Organization for Standardization ISO 9001:2008 for quality management system, and on May 26, 2017, ParSU maintained ISO certification to be at par with other universities not only in the Philippines but around the world. June 2018 marked ParSU's recertification under TUV Rheinland and upgrade to ISO 9001: 2015 standard.

ParSU today is determined to deliver relevant, responsive, quality education to the Bicolanos and the rest of the Filipinos as embodied in its motto: Where Quality Education Comes First!

Section 4. The Partido State University Seal

The seal is the symbol of the University. It is circular in shape with three concentric circles that stand for the unity of the PSU community – administration and faculty, parents and students/ alumni.

At the center is a shield signifying that education is one's protection against the challenges of life. The torch provides light towards progress while the green and the blue background represent that rich land and marine resources that abound in the service area of the University, the Partido district.

The figures-open book, wheel gear, lighting, graph, fish, mountains and trees represent the various academic units of the University.

The laurel leaves signifying honor, distinction, and victory and the stars represent the campuses of the university.

The official colors of the Partido State University are blue (dominant color), yellow, red and green.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Section 1. Assignment of Subjects to Faculty Members

The preparation of faculty load is an inherent function of the respective Program Directors upon consultation with the Deans of the Colleges/Campuses and approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Full Time Equivalent (FTE) for teachers issued by PASUC is the basis for loading. Overloads are assigned by respective Program Directors of their equivalents with a conference with the concerned faculty member.

Teaching loads of all academic rank holders with designations shall be based on Office Order issued by the University President.

The field of specialization of faculty members is the major basis in giving subject load. Minor field of specialization, teaching experiences, seminars and trainings attended are likewise considered in subject loading. A faculty member who is underloaded in one campus shall be requested to handle subjects in another campus where his/her field of specialization is needed.

Section 2. Preparation of the Class program

The schedule of classes of faculty members and students is prepared at the Office of the Registrar or by the respective Program Directors in coordination with the Deans. Proper scheduling in consideration of some factors that will contribute to effective transfer of learning is judiciously done by said office.

Section 3. Class Attendance of Faculty

Attendance in class generally means that the faculty member is physically present and actually conducting lessons for the duration as prescribed in his/her workload.

In cases where class session is conducted outside the assigned classroom, the immediate supervisor should be properly informed by the concerned faculty member.

In cases where faculty member cannot meet his/her class in the classroom due to official business, he/she has to attend, make-up or advanced classes are highly encouraged with proper coordination with his/her immediate supervisor.

Section 4. Classroom Management

The faculty member is expected to maintain order in his/her class. Like a manager in an office, he/she must be able to issue classroom rules, regulations and policies. He/She:

1. may start the class activities with a short prayer.
2. assign beadle and other students to facilitate
    a. Preparation of seating plan
    b. Checking of attendance
    c. Cleaning of class board before and after the end of class
    d. Request and make necessary arrangements for use of school equipment and facilities
    e. Switching on/off of lights and electric fans
    f. Accomplishment of the attendance report at the end of the class and submit said report to the office of the Dean/Program Director
3. maintain the orderliness of the classroom
4. report promptly to the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs & Services for any violation of the Student Code of Conduct, such as attending the class under the influence of liquor or prohibited drugs, vandalism, guns and/or deliberate discourtesy and the like.
5. check proper attire/uniform of students and the wearing of Identification Card.
6. provide an environment that would promote Filipino values in the classroom like courtesy, respect and honesty.
7. act as a model teacher and professional inside the classroom

Section 5. Submission of Grades

The faculty members are required to accomplish two copies of the grade sheets to be submitted to the Program Director/Dean's Office within two weeks or 14 days after the scheduled examination and as indicated in the Academic Calendar.

The grade sheets shall be forwarded by the Program Director/Dean to the Office of the Registrar. After receipt by the Registrar, one copy shall be retained and the other copy to be sent back to the Program Director/Dean's Office.

Faculty members should meet the deadline of submission of grade sheets for their Program Directors and the Registrar to record names of students with failing grades especially in their prerequisite subjects.

Failure on the part of the faculty members to submit grade sheets on time will create problems on the approval of loads of students during the enrolment and shall cause a delay on the evaluation of grades of students before graduation.

Section 6. Incomplete Grades

A student with Incomplete Grade (INC) at the end of the semester is given one semester to complete the requirements. Non-completion of the requirements shall automatically change the INC grade into 5.0 (failed) at the Office of the Registrar.

The concerned faculty member has the responsibility to immediately give a grade upon completion of the requirements.

No faculty shall give completion grade to students after the last day of submission at the Registrar's Office.

Section 7. Evaluation of Student Academic Records

The office of the Registrar makes the Official evaluation of the grades of students. For counter-checking, respective Program Directors make their own evaluation. In case of discrepancy of records, the Registrar or her representatives and the concerned Program Director confer and make appropriate action on the discrepancy met. The concerned faculty member shall be informed of the discrepancy in the grades of the students for appropriate action.

Section 8. Release of Grades

The faculty member returns scored and recorded test papers, assignments, reports and projects the soonest time possible. He/she devotes sufficient class time after examination to appraise the students of their academic performance.

At the end of the mid-term examination, he gives out the student's grade through a small portion of the class card designed for the purpose. In a campus where registration system is automated, the faculty concerned has the responsibility of informing the students of their midterm grades.

At the end of the semester, the faculty member submits the class cards together with copies of the grade sheets at the Office of their respective Program Directors/Deans who shall, in turn, submit the same to the Office of the Registrar.

Section 9. Correction of Errors/Omission in the Grade sheets

In cases where grades or names of students are inadvertently omitted or errors in the recording of grades are committed, the faculty member makes a written request indicating the specific reasons for correction to the College Deans/Campus Program Directors and shall be endorsed to the Office of the Registrar for Official corrections in the grade sheets.

Effective January 3, 2018, requests for correction of grades is made through an official form available at the Dean's/Registrar's Office. RE: Application for Change of Grade (PSU-F-URO-51).

Rectification of grades shall be allowed within a year or not more than 2 semesters after the error has been made, effective AY 2018-2019.

 Pursuant to BOR No. 60, s. 2017 University Registrar's Manual*

Section 10. Examinations

Two regular written examinations, Mid-Term and Final Examinations are prescribed every semester/term. Faculty members are expected to give examinations on the scheduled dates as prescribed in the Academic Calendar for the School Year. Advance or giving examinations not within the scheduled dates for mid-term and final examinations shall be properly coordinated with the Program Directors/Deans.

Quizzes or practical examinations are also given at the discretion of the subject instructor/professor before the scheduled mid-term or final examination.

Section 11. Academic Freedom

Members of the teaching staff shall enjoy academic freedom.

Academic freedom is the right of the teacher to teach the subject of his specialization according to his best light, morality and standard profession; to hold in other subjects such ideas as he believes sincerely to be right; and to express his opinions on public questions in a manner that shall not interfere with his duties as a member of the faculty or jeopardize his loyalty to the university that employs him. Within this specific framework, the following principles are hereby declared:

a. The University shall not impose any limitation upon the faculty's freedom in the exposition of his own subject in the classroom or in addresses and publication,
b. The University shall not place any restraint upon the faculty's freedom in the choice of subject for research and investigation undertaken on his own initiative;
c. Furthermore, the University shall recognize that the faculty, in speaking or in writing outside of the College upon subjects beyond the scope of his field of study, is entitled to the same freedom as all other citizens and is subject to the same responsibilities as such.

No instructor/professor in the University shall inculcate sectarian tenets in any of his teachings nor use his positions directly or indirectly to influence students or attendants at the College for or against any particular church or religious sect, or political party under penalty of dismissal by the Board of Regents.

If the conduct of a faculty in his classroom or elsewhere should give rise to doubts concerning his fitness for his position, the question shall in all cases be submitted first to the Grievance Committee created by the University to investigate and recommend appropriate action on the case. In no case shall any member of the teaching staff be dismissed before the normal termination of his period of appointment to faculty and or administrative position without full and open hearing by the Board of Regents should he so desire it, and only upon the sufficient notice.

The University shall assume no responsibility for views expressed by members of its staff and the faculty members themselves shall make clear that they are expressing their personal opinions. Freedom, however, is never absolute, as it is always accompanied with responsibilities.
