IMPLEMENTING GUIDELINES OF BOR RESOLUTION NO. 22, s. 2020:
ACADEMIC PLANS FOR THE 2nd SEMESTER AY 2019-2020 AND 1st SEMESTER AY 2020-2021
(DURING AND POST ENHANCED COMMUNITY QUARANTINE (ECQ))

Due to COVID-19 pandemic, we will be adopting some changes in the policies of the university. These guidelines are prepared for the smooth ending of 2nd Semester AY 2019-2020 and start of 1st Sem AY 2020-2021. These policies have been endorsed by the Academic Council and approved by the BOR through BOR resolution No. 22, s. 2020.

1. End of 2nd Semester for Academic Year 2019-2020 was last May 15, 2020.
2. Submission of grades was last May 29, 2020. However, due to Covid-19 Pandemic and to give time for the faculty to check the modules of students without internet connectivity which were delivered via LGUs posting of grades in the SIAS is extended until June 5, 2020.
3. System for Giving Academic Grades
   3.1. In full consideration of the impact of COVID 19 ECQ, the grading system for all subjects covering the ECQ period will be as follows:

   3.2. The grades of the students for the 2nd half of the second semester AY 2019-2020 will rely heavily on the performance during the 1st half of the semester covering the pre-COVID ECQ period. This means that 70% of the students' midterm performance or grade will come from the midterm grade and the remaining 30% will be taken from their performance covering the ECQ period. This is also applicable to business implementation classes. However, during the first semester AY 2020-2021, 50% of the students' grades will come from the 1st half (midterms) and the remaining 50% will come from the 2nd half (after the midterms until the end of the semester).

   3.3. For NSTP, the final grade of the students for the second semester AY 2020-2021 will be taken solely from their midterm performance. In addition, students are asked to prepare creative outputs e.g home gardening, landscaping to enhance their grades during the 2nd half. Creative outputs are syllabus-based aligned to CHED mandated topics.

   3.4. For students' grade in research subjects, the basis will be the completed manuscripts of the Chapters 1-3 of their Research Capstone Proposal. Flexibility and consideration will be practiced regarding students' compliance of subject requirements.

   3.5. Students who are able to comply with the subject requirements shall be given a passing numerical rating. However, for students who have not complied with the subject requirements they will not be given a failing grade, rather, their grades will be deferred. They will still be required to comply with the subject requirements until Dec 2020 or the end of 1st semester.

   3. 6 Policies on Grading System for the Laboratory high School, 2nd Semester AY 2019-2020

   3.6.1, Junior HS

   a Alternative examinations shall be given as third periodical examination via chat group, messenger, email, etc.

   b. Those who have no internet connectivity may comply within 3 months after the lifting of ECQ for grade 10 and 6 months for grades 7-9

   c. No failing mark shall be given for the 3rd periodical test.

   d. Fourth grading grades shall be computed as follows:

Average of 1st, 2nd, and 3rd grading grades –	80%
Accomplishments on ALM (from March 16-April 30)-	20%
	100%

e) Suggested activities and actions

These reports should be accompanied by the faculty's accomplished DTR's duly signed by their Deans. The Deans will certify the accomplishments of their faculty members as evidenced by the documents submitted.

10. No Midyear Classes will be offered for Midyear 2020. Classes scheduled to be offered this Midyear will be offered during the 1st semester of AY 2020-2021.

11. Adoption of Alternative Learning Modalities for the 1st semester of AY 2020-2021 or until the situation permits, Alternative Learning Modalities will be adopted as mode of delivery of instruction to suit the categories of students for flexible learning in the University.

11.1. The alternative learning modalities will be composed of flexible learning schemes such as online/offline, distance, modular and modified face to face mode of instructional delivery.

11.2. The distance, modular and face to face mode of instructional delivery will be given to Category 1 students (Students without internet access). Under the Distance Instructional modality, learning modules will be prepared by respective course instructors. The distance learning materials will consist of prepared lecture topics, exercises and self-learning evaluation tools. PSU-LGU channels were established for the delivery and retrieval of learning modules.

11.3. The modular instructional mode of delivery is designed for Categories 1 and 2 students. Category 2 students are those with internet access. However, internet signal is intermittent. This instructional delivery modality will support distance instructional modality and modified face to face instructional modality. By modified instructional modality, teachers may hold face to face interaction. However, if the situation permits, this will be done once a month. Strict observance of New Normal Protocols apply. Therefore, if a class has 30 students, only 15 students will be allowed to come at the same time for F2F interaction. Thus, students will come to the University once a month, but the faculty will have a F2F interaction with the students twice a month.

11.4. The modified face to face instructional modality will be a modality of last resort which will be managed strictly following physical distancing protocol and will rely heavily on the COVID status and existing quarantine protocols of LGUs in the service area. Owing to the risk, this modality will be adopted sparingly and left to the best judgment of the instructors as permitted by proper authorities such as the VPAA, Deans and conformed by LGU executives. It will be used to enhance and enrich distance and offline instructional delivery modes, and for courses which necessitate face to face interactions as prescribed by the course PSG.

11.5. The online/offline learning modality will be implemented using digital learning materials prepared by their respective faculty. The learning materials will be sent to appropriate students online using the most common IT resources such as smartphones, computers, laptops, and other online/offline platforms such as Facebook, Messenger, Chats, Edmodo, Google classroom, skype, Zoom, email etc. Appropriate monitoring and evaluation tools will be embedded in the learning materials to measure learning outcomes.

12. Capacity Development for Faculty

12.1. To prepare for on-line instruction comes First Semester of AY 2020-2021, massive faculty training on Flexible Learning Modalities will be conducted by the university. Faculty are also encouraged to attend Webinars on Flexible Learning Modalities other than what the University is providing to better equip them with necessary knowledge and skills on online learning.

13. Admission Process

Due to the present crisis and the risks of physical appearance of the applicant to work for the requirements under the original admission process, the Admission requirements for the 1st semester will be relaxed and will only require the following:
