LIBRARY STAFF DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

I. RATIONALE:

Librarians as information professionals are geared towards upgrading their knowledge and skills in managing the library and its services. Attendance and participation in seminars, conferences and others, as well as active membership in library associations provides them opportunities to gain, learn and apply new ideas, knowledge, skills

Thus, librarians shall be motivated and increase their skills and knowledge through continuing education in order to keep updated of the current trends, practices and developments in librarianship. This, in turn upgrades the library profession itself, enriches librarians and promotes delivery of quality library service as well.

II. STAFF DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The library staff development programs are the following:

1. Librarians are encouraged, recommended and allowed to attend in the local and national seminars, conferences and trainings related to librarianship.
2. Active membership to library professional organizations.
3. Staff development programs through scholarship of library personnel interested to pursue and finish Master's and Doctoral degree.
4. Benchmarking activities.
